THE GAME

• A trip to a third-consecutive NCAA Division I Football Championship title game is on the line when No. 5 Appalachian State University hosts No. 6 Richmond in a national semifinal matchup on Friday night at Kidd Brewer Stadium. The nationally televised contest on ESPN2 is set for 8 p.m.

• Appalachian (11-2) is making its third-straight and fifth-overall appearance in the national semifinals while Richmond (11-2) is making its first-ever trip to the final four.

• The Mountaineers are 2-2 in two previous trips to the national semis. They lost to Marshall (24-10) in 1987 and at Montana (19-16 — OT) in 2000. The Apps defeated Southern Conference-rival Furman in 2005 (29-23) and Youngstown State (49-24) last season to advance to the national championship game.

• ASU is 3-2 all-time versus UR. The teams' last matchup came in the first round of the 1987 NCAA Division I-AA playoffs, where the Sparky Woods-led Mountaineers came away with a 20-3 victory.

• A victory would be Appalachian's 11-straight in the postseason, which would set the FCS/I-AA record for consecutive postseason wins in contiguous years. ASU's 10-straight postseason triumphs over the past three seasons match the record set by Georgia Southern from 1999-2001. Youngstown State won 15-straight postseason games from 1993-99, but wasn't part of the playoff field in 1995, '96 and '98.

• The Mountaineers are looking to become the first team since Georgia Southern from 1998-2000 to advance to three-consecutive national championship games.

• Appalachian is 10-0 all-time when playing on ESPN, ESPN2 or ESPNU and have won 11-straight nationally televised contests overall, including wins this season over Michigan (Big Ten Network) and Western Carolina (ESPNU).

• The Apps and Spiders have two common opponents this season — James Madison, which ASU defeated, 28-27, and UR downed, 17-16, and Wofford, which ASU lost to, 42-31, and UR topped, 21-10.

• Both squads feature Walter Payton Award finalists at running back in ASU's Kevin Richardson and Richmond's Tim Hightower. The nation's second-leading active rusher, Richardson has 1,471 yards from scrimmage as a senior (1,154 rushing, 317 receiving) while Hightower ranks sixth nationally with 1,829 yards on the ground this season.

AN APPALACHIAN WIN WOULD:

- send Appalachian to the NCAA Division I national championship game for the third-straight year.
- move the Mountaineers one step closer to becoming the first team to ever win three-consecutive national titles at the FCS/I-AA level.
- be ASU's 11th-straight postseason win, setting an FCS record for consecutive postseason wins in contiguous years.

AN APPALACHIAN LOSS WOULD:

- end the Mountaineers' season at 11-3 overall.
- drop the Mountaineers to 3-3 all-time versus Richmond.
- drop ASU's all-time record in the national-semifinal round to 2-3.

NOTING ASU IN THE POSTSEASON

- Appalachian is the only school from the state of North Carolina to ever win an NCAA football national championship.
- ASU is the only public institution in the state of North Carolina to win a national title on any level of college football (Private institutions Lenoir-Rhyne and Elon have won NAIA national championships).
- Appalachian is one of just three programs to boast back-to-back NCAA Division I national championships (Georgia Southern — 1985-86, 1989-90, 1999-2000; Youngstown State — 1993-94). No team has ever won three-straight titles.
- The Mountaineers have defeated opponents by an average score of 34-23 during their current 10-game postseason winning streak.
- With ASU's back-to-back national titles, current members of the Southern Conference have won nine of the last 22 NCAA Division I national championships.
- See pp. 22-24 for Appalachian's all-time playoff records.

ASU IN THE NATIONAL RANKINGS

- In each of the past 28 regular-season polls, Appalachian has been ranked among the nation's top 10 teams. ASU came in at No. 5 in the final regular-season media poll by The Sports Network and No. 6 in the final regular-season AFCA poll (coaches).
- Prior to the Sept. 22 loss at No. 13 Wofford, the Mountaineers were the unanimous choice for No. 1 in both major FCS polls for three-consecutive weeks and the nation's top-ranked team for 10-consecutive weeks.
- Overall, ASU has been ranked 35-straight weeks in the regular season.
- Appalachian is 14-4-1 all-time when playing as the nation's fifth-ranked team. The Apps have played four games as No. 5 this season (4-1) and were also ranked No. 5 nationally when they won their first national championship in 2005.

WHEN ASU IS RANKED

- Appalachian is 153-62-1 (.711) all-time in games in which it is nationally ranked.
- Under Jerry Moore, ASU is 126-52 (.708) when nationally ranked. Twelve of those losses have come at the hands of FBS foes.

WHEN OPPONENT IS RANKED

- Appalachian is 60-43-1 (.582) all-time versus nationally ranked FCS opponents.
- Under Jerry Moore, ASU is an even more impressive 50-33 (.602) against ranked foes.
- ASU is 15-2 the past three seasons (2005-07) and 18-4 over the last four seasons (2004-07) versus nationally ranked FCS competition.
- With the Sept. 1 win over No. 5 Michigan, the Mountaineers became the first FCS team to ever defeat a nationally ranked FBS opponent.
- ASU's loss to Georgia Southern on Oct. 20 snapped a 15-game winning streak versus unranked FCS opposition.

"APPALACHIAN STATE RULE" MAKES FCS TEAMS ELIGIBLE FOR AP POLL

- Appalachian's 34-32 win over No. 5 Michigan on Sept. 1 prompted the AP to change its policy which, previously allowed voters to include only Division I Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS - formerly Division I-A) teams on their ballots. The new policy has been dubbed the "Appalachian State Rule" by some.
- Thanks to the new policy that makes all Division I teams eligible to receive votes in the Associated Press Top 25 poll, Appalachian received received 19 points (good for 33rd overall) in its first week of eligibility (Sept. 9) and five points (34th) in voting in the Sept. 16 poll.

SCHEDULE AMONG NATION'S TOUGHEST

- According to the NCAA's final strength of schedule analysis, Appalachian played the 23rd-toughest schedule in NCAA Division I FCS this season.
- ASU's schedule ranked third-hardest among the 16 teams that made the NCAA Division I Championship field (UMass — 18th; New Hampshire — 20th).
- The Mountaineers' schedule was ranked as high as No. 3 nationally before games versus Western Carolina (1-10) and Chattanooga (2-9) to close the season dragged the ranking down.
- Of the Mountaineers' 11 regular-season opponents, only three (Lenoir-Rhyne, Western Carolina, Chattanooga) posted below-.500 records.

- The NCAA strength-of-schedule statistics only count intra-division games, meaning Appalachian's high ranking doesn't include season-opening win at Michigan, which finished the regular season with an 8-4 overall record.

WHEN IT MEANS THE MOST

- Appalachian is 65-17 (.793) in the months of November and December in 19 seasons under head coach Jerry Moore.
- Since 2000, ASU has lost just five games after October 31: 12/9/00 at Montana (19-16, OT), 12/8/01 at Georgia Southern (38-24), 11/30/02 vs. Maine (14-13), 11/13/04 at Western Carolina (30-27) and 11/5/05 at LSU (24-0).

ONE THREE-PEAT DOWN ...

- Appalachian claimed its third-straight Southern Conference championship with a 5-2 conference record this season.
- Appalachian is just the seventh team in the 86-year history of the Southern Conference to win three-consecutive championships.

TEAMS THAT HAVE WON AT LEAST THREE-CONSECUTIVE SoCon CHAMPIONSHIPS

Team	Years
Duke	1943-45
West Virginia	1953-56
Chattanooga	1977-79
Furman	1980-83
Furman	1988-90
Georgia Southern	1997-2002
Appalachian State	2005-07

• Unlike the previous two seasons, when it earned the title outright, ASU shares the 2007 SoCon championship with Wofford. The Terriers claimed the conference's automatic bid to the 2007 NCAA Division I playoffs by virtue of its 42-31 win over ASU on Sept. 22. After upsetting third-seeded Montana, 23-22, in the first round, Wofford fell to Richmond in the national quarterfinals last Saturday night.

• This season marked the first time in SoCon history that every team in the league finished with at least two conference losses. Only once before has a two-loss team earned a SoCon title (1981, when 5-2 Furman won the championship by percentage points over 3-1-1 VMI).

• This season's SoCon title is the eighth in school history. Appalachian has won 14 conference titles in all:

Year	Conference	Record
1931	North State	3-0
1937	North State	5-0
1939	North State	3-0-1
1948	North State	7-0-1
1950	North State	7-0-1
1954	North State	6-0
1986	Southern	6-0-1

... AND ONE TO GO

• Appalachian is looking to become the first school to ever win three-consecutive national championships at the Division I FCS (Football Championship Subdivision — formerly Division I-AA) level.

• ASU is one of just three programs to boast back-to-back NCAA Division I national championships (Georgia Southern — 1985-86, 1989-90, 1999-2000; Youngstown State — 1993-94).

... OK, ONE MORE TO GO

• With last week's win over Eastern Washington, Appalachian became just the fifth program (and sixth team) in I-AA/FCS history to advance to the national semifinals at least three years in a row.

• Teams to advance to three-straight national semifinals include:

- Eastern Kentucky (1979-82)
- Georgia Southern (1988-90, 1998-2002)
- Youngstown State (1991-94)
- Marshall (1991-96)

• All of the teams listed above also advanced to at least three-straight national-title games during their semifinal streaks. Should ASU win on Friday, it would join an exclusive list that includes:

- Eastern Kentucky (1979-82)
- Georgia Southern (1988-90, 1998-2000)
- Youngstown State (1991-94)
- Marshall (1991-93)

STREAKING IN THE POSTSEASON

• With a win versus Richmond, Appalachian would set an NCAA Division I-AA/FCS record for with 11-consecutive postseason wins in contiguous seasons.

LONGEST NCAA DIVISION I-AA/FCS POSTSEASON WINNING STREAKS

Games	Team	Years
10	APPALACHIAN	2005-pres.
10	Georgia Southern	2001-03
9	Georgia Southern	1985-87
8	Youngstown State	1993-94
8	Georgia Southern	1989-90

• Youngstown State won 15-straight postseason games from 1993-99, but wasn't part of the playoff field in 1995, '96 and '98.

FRIDAY NIGHT LIGHTS

• Friday's matchup under the lights is unique to Appalachian in both its day and time.

• ASU has not kicked off a home game at night (5 p.m. or later) since defeating Liberty, 46-26, under the Kidd Brewer Stadium lights in the 2001 season opener.

• The Mountaineers have not played a night game all season.

• Appalachian last played a home game on a Friday on Oct. 1, 1948, when it defeated Elon, 33-13.

• However, playing on Friday night isn't a completely foreign concept for the Apps, as it has won both of its national championships on Friday nights.

LYNCH, BROWN HIGHLIGHT ASU'S 14 ALL-CONFERENCE HONOREES

Defensive Player of the Year Corey Lynch and Jacobs Blocking Trophy recipient Kerry Brown highlight Appalachian State University's league-high 14 representatives on the 2007 all-Southern Conference teams, voted by the league's coaches and media.

After winning its third-straight SoCon championship, Appalachian (9-2, 5-2 SoCon) was the only school with double-digit all-conference honorees, garnering 11 selections on both the coaches' and media teams.

A front-runner for the Buck Buchanan Award, given to the nation's top defensive player, Lynch is tied for the SoCon lead with four interceptions on the season and also ranks among the conference's top 10 in passes defended (10 — sixth) and tackles (83 — 10th). He is expected to become ASU's first three-time All-American since two-time Buchanan Award winner Dexter Coakley (1994-96). The senior from Cape Coral, Fla. became a household name nationally when he blocked Michigan's game-winning field-goal attempt as time expired to seal Appalachian's 34-32 victory at FBS No. 5 U-M in the season opener. Lynch is also ASU's first four-time all-SoCon honoree since Chip Hooks (1991-94).

A 6-6, 310-pound guard, Brown earned the Jacobs Blocking Trophy — awarded to the SoCon's top offensive lineman — for the second-straight year. He is the first Mountaineer to claim the honor in back-to-back seasons since Gil Beck in 1976-77. Brown helped pave the way for an Appalachian offense that ranks among the nation's top 10 in scoring (42.8 ppg — second), total offense (481.2 ypg — third), rushing (273.3 ypg — fourth) and pass efficiency (152.46 — 10th). For just the fourth time in the 74-year history of the award, someone from the same school has won the Jacobs Blocking Trophy three seasons in a row, as Brown's back-to-back honors were preceded by former Mountaineer Matt Isenhour claiming the award in 2005.

In addition to Lynch earning all-conference plaudits for the fourth time, Brown and Richardson are three-time recipients and Edwards, Jackson, Rauch, Suttle, Tharrington and Touchstone all claimed the honor for the second-straight year.

ON THE TUBE

- Appalachian is 49-26 (.653) all-time and 21-3 (.875) since the beginning of the 2005 season and 6-2 (.750) this in televised games.
- ASU is 10-0 all-time when playing on ESPN's family of national networks (ESPN, ESPN2, ESPNU).
- The Mountaineers have won 11-straight nationally televised games, including wins this season over Michigan (Big Ten Network) and Western Carolina (ESPNU).
- On Sept. 22, 1979, Appalachian defeated archrival Western Carolina, 35-27, in just the second college football game ever aired on a fledgling ESPN.

OFFENSE'S RECORD-SETTING PACE

- Long-standing school record are being obliterated by Appalachian's outstanding offensive output this season.

NOTING LAST WEEK'S WIN OVER EWU

- Appalachian led 38-21 with 6:07 to play before Eastern Washington scored two late touchdowns to make ASU's 38-35 win interesting.
- The outcome wasn't decided until Chase Laws recovered EWU's last-ditch onside-kick attempt following its last score with 28 seconds remaining.
- The Mountaineers limited Eastern Washington, the nation's fifth-best passing team coming in, to just 185 passing yards, its lowest total of the campaign and 120 yards below its season average.
- The Eagles didn't break the 100-yard passing barrier until the final five minutes of the game.
- Buck Buchanan Award finalist Corey Lynch led ASU's defensive effort with an interception, fumble recovery and field-goal block. With his 23rd-career interception and seventh-career fumble recovery, Lynch extended his school record for takeaways to 30 in just 54 career games. His field-goal block, which thwarted the Eagles' only scoring opportunity of the first quarter, was the sixth of his career (all in his last 21 games).
- The Mountaineers moved to 20-0 when Lynch intercepts a pass.
- Offensively, Appalachian racked up a school-playoff-record 529 total yards (308 rushing, 221 passing).
- For the fourth time in its last six postseason games, Appalachian featured two 100-yard rushers, in quarterback Armanti Edwards (126 rushing yards) and reserve running back Devon Moore (career-high 100). Walter Payton Award finalist Kevin Richardson chipped in with 69 yards on just eight carries (8.6 ypr) despite still nursing an ankle injury sustained in ASU's first-round win over James Madison.
- Edwards also completed his first nine passes of the afternoon and didn't throw an incomplete pass until the third period. He finished with 221 yards and two touchdowns on 15-of-22 passing. The sophomore also ran for a score.
- The over-capacity attendance of 16,947 marked the second-largest home crowd in ASU postseason history, behind only the 18,040 that witnessed last season's semifinal win over Youngstown State.
- Appalachian's 95-yard drive for its first touchdown was its longest scoring drive of the season

CENTURY CLUB

- Appalachian is the only team in the nation that boasts two active players with 10 or more 100-yard games in their careers — Richardson has gone over the 100-yard mark 18 times and Edwards has achieved the feat 12 times.
- Richardson's 18 career 100-yard games are tied for seventh among all active Division I FCS players, while Edwards' 12 are tied for 20th.

- ASU is 18-0 when Richardson rushes for at least 100 yards. In fact, ASU's loss to Georgia Southern on Oct. 20 marked the first time the Mountaineers have ever lost a game in which Richardson ran for at least 70 yards.
- Richardson's tally could be much higher, but he has been removed early from seven lopsided games in his career before he reached the century mark.
- Richardson and Edwards have both gone over the 100-yard rushing mark in the same game five times (all in the last 13 games Edwards has played in).
- With Richardson limited to eight carries due to an ankle injury suffered the previous week versus James Madison, Edwards and reserve running back Devon Moore teamed up to both rush for 100 yards (Edwards - 126; Moore - career-high 100) last week versus Eastern Washington.
- ASU has had at least one 100-yard rusher in seven-straight games.

Special thanks to OVC asst. commissioner Kyle Schwartz for compiling the list of active players' 100-yard rushing games.

WHAT A RUSH

- As a team, Appalachian turned in two of the top rushing performances in school history in November.
- ASU's 439 rushing yards at The Citadel on Nov. 3 were its most since tallying 572 yards on the ground versus Lenoir-Rhyne on Oct. 18, 1975.
- The performance marked only the fourth time in the past 30 years that the Mountaineers have rushed for 400 yards or more.

APPALACHIAN'S 400-YARD RUSHING GAMES (since 1977)

Yards	Opponent	Date
439	The Citadel	Nov. 3, 2007
424	VMI	Nov. 4, 2000
424	Davidson	Oct. 4, 1986
414	Marshall	Oct. 1, 1977

- On Nov. 10 versus Western Carolina, the Mountaineers nearly topped the 400-yard rushing mark for the second week in a row, as they finished with 396 yards on the ground against WCU.
- In all, Appalachian averaged 336 rushing yards per game in November.

RICHARDSON BECOMES APPALACHIAN'S ALL-TIME LEADING RUSHER

- Kevin Richardson cemented his place as Appalachian's all-time greatest running back versus Chattanooga on Nov. 17 when he broke the school's all-time rushing record of 4,409 career yards, held for 21 years by ASU legend John Settle.

- With his 103-yard performance in the win over Chattanooga, Richardson also became the first player in school history with three 1,000-yard rushing seasons (1,433 in 2005, 1,676 in 2006 and 1,154 this season).

RICHARDSON ON A NATIONAL LEVEL

- With every career record for a runner at Appalachian under his belt, the sights now turn to Richardson's place in the all-time NCAA Division I FCS annals.
- Coming into Saturday's national semifinal, Richardson ranks 28th in FCS history and fifth in SoCon history with 4,610 career rushing yards.
- Richardson is tied third in FCS history and ranks second in SoCon history with 64 career rushing touchdowns.
- Georgia Southern's Adrian Peterson (now a member of the Chicago Bears) is all-time leader in FCS and the SoCon with 6,559 career rushing yards and 84 touchdowns.

2 X 1000

- For the second-consecutive year, Appalachian boasts two 1,000-yard rushers in Kevin Richardson and Armanti Edwards.
- Coming into this week, Edwards leads the squad with 1,186 rushing yards on the season and Richardson has 1,154.
- The past two seasons are the only times in school history that ASU has had two 1,000-yard rushers. The feat has now been achieved just 25 times in FCS history.

MORE RICHARDSON RECORDS

- Other ASU career records that Richardson already holds are:

Rushing Touchdowns: 64
All-Purpose Yardage: 5,935
Pass Receptions by a Running Back: 129
Receiving Yards by a Running Back: 1,278

LATE BLOOMER

- Richardson has been a notoriously slow starter over the course of his career. Below is a look at his production in the first seven games of his four seasons compared with the stretch run of each campaign (four games in 2004, eight in 2005 and '06 and six this season):

FIRST SEVEN GAMES

(2004-07 — 28 games)
Rushing Yards Per Game: 64.4
100-Yard Rushing Games: 6 (21.4 pct.)
Rushing Touchdowns: 27 (.96/gm)

AFTER FIRST SEVEN GAMES

(2004-07 — 26 games)
Rushing Yards Per Game: 99.9
100-Yard Rushing Games: 12 (46.2 pct.)
Rushing Touchdowns: 37 (1.42/gm)

- After the seven-game mark this season, Richardson has averaged 105.7 rushing yards on 17 carries per game (6.2 yards per rush). He has also added 90 receiving yards, pushing his output to 122.2 all-purpose yards per game.

RECEIVING WITH RICHARDSON

- Richardson has also proven throughout his career to be as big of a threat catching the ball out of the backfield as he is toting the pigskin.
- Richardson is the only player in ASU history with 2,000 rushing yards and 1,000 receiving yards in a career.
- Richardson's 129 career pass receptions rank fifth in school history, while his 1,278 career receiving yards are good for 11th in ASU's all-time annals.

- For complete ASU receiving records, see p. 11.

BALL-HAWKING BUCHANAN CANDIDATE

• Buck Buchanan Award candidate Corey Lynch has furthered his reputation as one of the nation's top "ball hawks" with his play this season.

• In 13 games this season, Lynch has five interceptions (tops in the SoCon and good for a tie for 10th nationally), two blocked field goals and a blocked punt to go along with 98 tackles, the third-highest total on the team and 12th-best in the SoCon).

• Last week versus Eastern Washington, Lynch recorded his 23rd career interception, recovered the seventh fumble of his career and notched his sixth-career blocked kick.

• Lynch is only the third player in ASU history — and first in 41 years — to register at least 20 career interceptions. For a complete list, see p. 8.

• His first field-goal block of the year came on perhaps the most-recognizable play of the 2007 college football season, when he blocked Michigan's game-winning attempt as time expired to preserve ASU's 34-32 win over No. 5 (FBS) U-M.

• The block to seal the win in the Big House earned ASU the Pontiac Game Changing Performance of the Week award. In fan voting on ESPN.com, the play received 74 percent of the vote to win $5,000 prize for its general scholarship fund.

• Appalachian is now eligible for the $100,000 Pontiac Game Changing Performance of the Year at the conclusion of the 2007 season.

• All six of Lynch's career blocked kicks have come in his last 21 games.

• Appalachian is 20-0 when Lynch intercepts a pass and 6-0 when he blocks a kick.

VETERAN SECONDARY

• Lynch is one of four senior starters in Appalachian's defensive backfield.

• Lynch and cornerbacks Jerome Touchstone and Justin Woazeah are all four-year starters. Combined, the trio has made 159 career starts. Touchstone had started all 53 games of his collegiate career until missing last week's game versus Eastern Washington with a shoulder injury. Lynch and Woazeah have also started 53 apiece.

• Including nickel back Titus Howard, the four senior starters have combined for 37 interceptions and 91 pass break-ups in their careers.

DBs ON A NATIONAL LEVEL

• Like Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson, Lynch and Woazeah have etched their names in the national record books as well as ASU's.

• Woazeah's 49 career passes defended (eight INT, 41 PBU) are a SoCon record and rank second in NCAA Division I FCS history.

• Lynch's 47 career passes defended (43 INT, 24 PBU) are second behind only Woazeah in the SoCon annals and rank fourth in FCS history.

EFFICIENCY KEY FOR EDWARDS, ELDER

• Thanks to the play of quarterback Armanti Edwards and Trey Elder, Appalachian leads the SoCon and ranks 10th nationally with a 153.10 team pass efficiency rating.

• Due to splitting time almost evenly over the course of the season, neither signal-caller has met the minimum requirements to qualify for individual pass efficiency rankings.

• Edwards, who has made just nine starts this season ASU due to a shoulder injury, would rank 18th nationally with a 146.08 passer rating if he qualified for the national rankings.

• Even more impressively, Elder, who led the Mountaineers to a 4-0 record filling in for an injured Edwards earlier this season, would rank fifth nationally with a 163.90 passer rating.

• Edwards is 11th among all active FCS players with a 142.92 career pass efficiency rating. If Elder had enough attempts to qualify, he would rank 13th with a 141.07 career passer rating.

THE TOTAL PACKAGES

• Appalachian boasts three players — running back Kevin Richardson (4,610) and quarterbacks Armanti Edwards (6,158) and Trey Elder (3,212) with over 3,000 yards of total offense in their respective careers, good for a combined 13,980 total yards (7.9 miles) between them.

• Only a sophomore, Edwards is on pace to shatter the school record of 9,370 yards piled up by Richie Williams from 2002-05. Edwards is already ranks fourth in ASU history in career total offense and needs only 25 more yards to surpass D.J. Campbell (6,182 — 1989-92) into third on Appalachian's all-time total offense list, behind only ASU legends Williams and Steve Brown (7,129 — 1977-80).

• Ninth on the Mountaineers' all-time total offense list, Richardson is one of only two running backs (John Settle) among the top 10.

EDWARDS' BIG DAY

• In just one game, sophomore quarterback Armanti Edwards etched his name in numerous places in the ASU single-game and career record books with a 291-yard rushing performance on Nov. 3 versus The Citadel.

• Edwards' 291 rushing yards set new ASU records for single-game rushing yards (prev. 267 by Ritchie Melchor vs. Chattanooga, 1989), single-game rushing yards by a quarterback (prev. 220 by Edwards vs. Georgia Southern, Oct. 20) and the SoCon record for single-game rushing yards by a quarterback (prev. 286 by The Citadel's Gene Brown vs. VMI, 1988).

• Edwards' performance fell just 10 yards shy of the SoCon single-game rushing record (301 by Furman's Louis Ivory vs. Georgia Southern, 2000) and 18 yards short of the NCAA Division I (FBS or FCS) record for single-game rushing yards by a quarterback (309 by Western Kentucky's Eddie Thompson vs. Southern Illinois, 1992).

• His 439 yards of total offense (291 rushing, 148 passing) in the 45-24 win rank fourth in ASU single-game history and were the most ever compiled by any Mountaineer besides future ASU Hall of Famer Richie Williams.

2 X 200

• For the first time in school history, ASU boasted a 200-yard rusher in two-straight games — Edwards, who posted an ASU-record 291 at The Citadel on Nov. 3, followed by Richardson, who ran for a career-best 215 on Nov. 10 versus Western Carolina).

ELDER STATESMAN

• A large part of Appalachian's success this season can be attributed to the play of senior quarterback Trey Elder, who led the Mountaineers to a 4-0 record in place of injured starter Armanti Edwards.

• In limited action this season, Elder has compiled 1,395 yards of total offense (155.0 per game) and has accounted for 13 touchdowns (eight passing, five rushing) and only three turnovers.

• In five home games during the regular season, Elder totaled 882 yards of total offense. In three home starts, he tallied 300 yards of total offense versus Lenoir-Rhyne on Sept. 8 (210 passing, 90 rushing), 298 versus Northern Arizona on Sept. 15 (216 passing, 82 rushing) and 215 versus Gardner-Webb on Oct. 6 (229 passing, -14 rushing).

• The senior set single-game career highs with four touchdown passes (vs. Lenoir-Rhyne) and three touchdown runs (vs. Elon) this season.

• In just one half against L-R, Elder became first Mountaineer to throw four touchdown passes in a game since Richie Williams tossed four TDs in 59-56 loss to Chattanooga in 2004.

• He was named SoCon Co-Offensive Player of the Week for first time in his career following win over L-R.

• Elder is 7-1 in his career, including 4-0 this season, as a starter.

DINGED-UP O-LINE STILL PAVES THE WAY

• Appalachian has suffered a slew of injuries across the board this season, but none more than on its offensive line.

• ASU's projected starting five up front (LT Mario Acitelli, LG Kerry Brown, C Scott Suttle, RG John Holt and RT Jonathan Bieschke) have all started in just two of 13 games during the regular season.

• Down as many as four off the projected two deep at one time this season, the offensive line has fought back to its healthiest point in weeks. The only offensive linemen on this week's injury report is left tackle Mario Acitelli, who has missed the last five games with a leg injury sustained on Oct. 20 versus Georgia Southern. Acitelli is listed as probable for this weekend's national semifinal versus Richmond.

• Despite the injuries, ASU's offensive front is still paving the way for ASU's 270.6 rushing yards per game, good for fifth nationally.

HANS' HANDS

• Senior Hans Batichon has established himself as the Mountaineers' go-to receiver this season, as he leads the Mountaineers with 49 receptions, 729 receiving yards and seven touchdown catches on the season, all career highs.

• On Oct. 20 versus Georgia Southern, Batichon became the third current Mountaineer receiver to surpass the 1,000-yard plateau (Dexter Jackson and Richardson). Batichon now has 1,315 receiving yards for his career, good for 11th in school history, to go along with 92 receptions, which ranks tied for ninth all-time at ASU.

• Batichon, who was born in Haiti and moved to Miami when he was three, is Appalachian's only married player. He and his wife, Claudia, have a daughter, Jada, who was born in January.

ACTION JACKSON

• With six touchdowns among his 28 receptions this season, senior wide receiver Dexter Jackson continues his ascent up Appalachian's all-time receiving lists.

• With 61 yards on Oct. 27 versus Furman, Jackson became just the sixth player in school history with 1,500 career receiving yards. His career total now stands at 1,734, good for fifth in ASU history.

• On Nov. 10 versus Western Carolina, Jackson became only the seventh player in school history with 100 career receptions. His career total now stands at 108.

• Jackson became a household name nationwide when he appeared on the cover of Sports Illustrated following the 34-32 triumph at Michigan.

TAKE IT TO THE BANKS

- One of the most intriguing stories of the 2007 Mountaineers, junior linebacker Pierre Banks was ASU's leading tackler a season ago with 110.
- Appalachian's starting bandit linebacker, Banks has made 27-consecutive starts and is ASU's fourth-leading tackler this season with 96.
- After redshirting as a freshman, Banks earned a bachelor's degree in communication — electronic media/broadcasting in just three years. He is currently enrolled in graduate school and is on pace to earn a master's degree by the time his eligibility expires following the 2008 season.
- Thanks to his prowess in the classroom (3.24 GPA as an undergraduate), Banks was voted a first-team ESPN The Magazine academic all-district honoree. He is the second Mountaineer in as many years to earn first-team academic all-district recognition (Daniel Orlebar - '06).
- A Durham, N.C. native, Banks is the 16th of 17 children in his family.

GETTING FRESH AT LINEBACKER

- With just seven starts under his belt, true freshman linebacker D.J. Smith is already showing promise to be the latest in a long line of dominant Mountaineer linebackers.
- Despite making just seven starts, Smith already ranks second on the team with 103 tackles on the season. His two interceptions are good for a tie for second on the squad.
- After leading ASU in tackles (49), interceptions (2) and pass break-ups (3) in November, Smith was named the SoCon Defensive Player of the Month.
- With a game-best 14-tackle performance in the regular-season finale versus Chattanooga, Smith earned the first of what promises to be many SoCon Defensive Player of the Week awards.
- Smith turned in one of Appalachian's all-time best performances by a freshman on the defensive side of the ball with his performance at The Citadel on Nov. 3.
- Versus the Bulldogs, Smith tallied an ASU season-high 16 tackles (13 solo) and returned his first-career interception 23 yards for a touchdown early in the ballgame to help lead the Mountaineers to the crucial 45-24 victory.
- Smith's 16 tackles at The Citadel were the most by an ASU freshman since two-time Buck Buchanan Award winner since Dexter Coakley's 21 versus The Citadel in 1993.

ROMAN CANDLE BURNS BRIGHT

- Appalachian's middle linebacker, sophomore Jacque Roman, turned in perhaps the best defensive performance in ASU postseason history in the first round versus James Madison.
- Roman's 20 tackles in the 28-27 win over JMU were the second-most in the school's playoff annals, just one short of the record of 21 set by Sam Smalls versus Maine in 2002.
- In addition to the career- and game-high 20 stops, Roman returned a fumble forced by fellow 'backer Pierre Banks 77 yards to set up the Mountaineers' first touchdown and forced the fumble in the game's final minute that was recovered by Banks inside the ASU 10 yard line that sealed the Apps' heart-stopping one-point win.
- For the season, Roman has leads the team, ranks fourth in the SoCon and 56th nationally with 115 tackles.

PASS RUSH RETURNS WITH A VENGEANCE

- Appalachian's pass rush, which produced just five sacks in the first four games of the season, has tallied 19 in the last nine games.
- Twice in the nine-game span, Appalachian has matched a season high with five sacks (Sept. 29 at Elon and Nov. 3 at The Citadel).
- In addition to the pickup in sacks, ASU is also second in the SoCon and ranks 19th nationally in tackles for loss (7.5 pg).
- Despite being second only to the Mountaineer offensive front in terms of injuries suffered this season, four ASU defensive linemen — Tony Robertson (5.5), Anthony Williams (4.5), Tim Washington (4.5) and Gary Tharrington (4.0) rank among the SoCon's top 10 in total sacks.
- Tharrington (16.5) and Robertson (15.0) rank second and fifth, respectively, in the league in tackles for loss.

BLOCK PARTY

- In 13 games this season, Appalachian has blocked six kicks, good for a tie for fifth nationally.
- Just 16 teams have blocked as many as six kicks this season. Alabama State leads the nation with nine.
- Appalachian's first three FG blocks of the season came in a span of less than three quarters: two in the final 1:37 at Michigan and one in the second quarter versus Lenoir-Rhyne.

KICKING TO THE TOP

- Only the second player — and first kicker — in Appalachian history with 300 career points, senior Julian Rauch has virtually rewritten the ASU record book when it comes to kick scoring.
- Rauch is Appalachian's all-time leader in kick scoring (359) and extra points (233). With 113 points this season, he has topped his own record single-season kick scoring record (prev. 99 in 2006).
- Rauch holds the top four single-season extra-point totals in school history (69 in '06, 62 this season, 58 in '05 and 44 in '04).
- The senior is the nation's active career leader in extra points and ranks among the active leaders in total points (359 — 5th) and field goals (42 — t-10th).

HAPPY RETURNS FOR HILLARY

- Redshirt freshman CoCo Hillary has broken Appalachian's 30-year-old single-season kick-return yardage record with 905 yards this season (23.8 ypr), surpassing Pat Swisher (698 in 1977) for tops on ASU's all-time single-season list.
- With 126 kickoff return yards on Sept. 22 at Wofford and 97 on Sept. 29 at Elon, Hillary became the first Mountaineer to post 90 or more kick return yards in back-to-back games since Jermane Little accomplished the feat with 101 versus Marshall and 139 versus Eastern Kentucky in 2002.
- Hillary's 95-yard return for a touchdown versus Wofford was ASU's first since Jimmy Watkins returned a kick 95 yards for a score versus Wofford in 2000.

SECOND QUARTER SUCCESS

- Appalachian has been ultra-successful in the second quarter of games this season, outscoring its opponents by a combined 196-68.
- In 13 games this season, ASU has trailed six times and been tied once after one quarter of play. However, thanks to its second-period proficiency, Appalachian has trailed at half-time only once (31-17 on Oct. 20 vs. Georgia Southern).

ASU HEAD COACH JERRY MOORE

The all-time winningest coach in ASU and Southern Conference history, Jerry Moore begins his 19th season at the helm of the Mountaineers.

In his 19 seasons at Appalachian, Moore has compiled a 165-70 record and a 192-118-2 record in his 26 seasons as a head coach, including stints at North Texas and Texas Tech.

This season, Moore has secured his 14th-straight winning season and 18th in 19 years with the Mountaineers. He has been named the AFCA National and Regional Coach of the Year and the Southern Conference Coach of the Year each of the past two seasons. In 2006, he also won the Eddie Robinson Award, named for the legendary Grambling coach and given to the nation's top FCS coach by The Sports Network.

WELCOME TO THE ROCK

• Appalachian won the FCS regular-season attendance title for both average (27,140) and total attendance (162,841).

• ASU claimed the total attendance title despite playing one fewer home game than runner-up Montana.

• Last week's crowd of 16,947 marked the second-largest home attendance in ASU post-season history, behind only the 18,040 that turned out for last year's semifinal win over Youngstown State.

• The Mountaineers averaged a whopping 163 percent of Kidd Brewer Stadium's 16,650-seat capacity this season.

• Since the beginning of the 2005 season, ASU has drawn 24,440 fans per regular-season home game (146.79 percent of capacity).

HOME SWEET HOME

• ASU has won 34 of its last 35 games Kidd Brewer Stadium, dating back to the beginning of the 2003 season.

• Appalachian's 30-game home winning streak, the nation's longest in Division I, was snapped with a 38-35 loss to Georgia Southern on Oct. 20.

• The home loss was the first for any player on ASU's roster. Despite the loss, this year's senior class still maintains a gaudy 29-1 home record for their careers. Last season's senior class was a perfect 27-0 at home.

CAROLINAS' BEST

• Prior to winning its first national championship in 2005, a quantitative study by the Charlotte Observer tabbed Appalachian as the best Division I football program in the Carolinas over the previous two decades (1985-2004).

• A look at the numbers since the turn of the millenium seem to back up the Observer's findings. Since 2000, Appalachian has the best winning percentage of any Division I program in North or South Carolina.

CAROLINAS' WINNINGEST DIVISION I FOOTBALL PROGRAMS (since 2000)

School (Conference)	Record	Pct.
Appalachian (SoCon)	77-27	.740
Furman (SoCon)	70-30	.700
Wofford (SoCon)	62-32	.659
Clemson (ACC)	63-35	.643
South Carolina St. (MEAC)	55-34	.618
Gardner-Webb (Big South)	52-36	.591
South Carolina (SEC)	54-42	.563
NC State (ACC)	55-44	.556
Wake Forest (ACC)	47-48	.495
Charleston Sou. (Big South)	42-47	.472

SoCon SUPREMACY

• Appalachian is also the Southern Conference's winningest program since 2000, with a 46-14 record in conference play.

SOUTHERN CONFERENCE'S WINNINGEST FOOTBALL PROGRAMS (Since 2000, SoCon games only)

20 IS THE MAGIC NUMBER

• Appalachian is 148-24 in 19 seasons under head coach Jerry Moore and 53-8 since 2002 when scoring at least 20 points.

• ASU is also 109-9 under Moore and 32-1 since 2002 when it holds its opponent to less than 20 points.

SENIOR LEADERSHIP

• Despite its recent success, Appalachian still boasts a relatively young squad, as just 19 of the 96 players on the 2007 roster are seniors.

• Just 11 seniors are starters, but 17-of-19 are listed on this week's two-deep.

OH CAPTAINS, MY CAPTAINS

• The Mountaineers voted seven players to represent the team as captains in 2007:

- Offense
- TE Nic Cardwell (Sr.)
- G John Holt (Sr.)
- C Scott Suttle (Sr.)
- Defense
- LB Pierre Banks (Jr.)
- LB Cam Speer (Sr.)
- CB Jerome Touchstone (Sr.)
- Special Teams
- PK Julian Rauch (Sr.)

FRESHMEN CONTRIBUTE

• For the second-straight year, a number of true freshmen are key contributors for the Mountaineers this season.

• A total of eight true freshmen have seen playing time for the Apps this season (DT Bobby Bozzo, WR Brian Quick, LB D.J. Smith, DB Mark LeGree, DE Jabari Fletcher, DB Jared Reine, RB Josh Smith and DT Gordy Witte). Bozzo, Fletcher and D.J. Smith have all made starts.

• Last year, Appalachian also played eight true freshmen throughout the course of the season.

BROTHERLY LOVE

• Three sets of brothers grace Appalachian's roster this season:

- WR Blake and QB Trey Elder
- OL John and LB Sherman Holt
- WR Calan and DB Corey Lynch

• While not related, the following Mountaineers share a surname:

- WR Dexter and RB Josh Jackson
- LB Chris, WR Josh and DL Justin Johnson
- LB D.J. and RB Josh Smith
- WR Tavaris and DL Tim Washington
- DL Anthony and LS Russell Wilson

SEEING RED

• Appalachian has come away with points on 60 of its 66 trips (90.9 percent) into the red zone (inside the opponent's 20 yard line) this season (47 touchdowns, 13 field goals).

• The Mountaineers scored on each of their first 24 trips into the red zone this season (19 touchdowns and five field goals) but had the streak snapped on their final possession of a 45-7 rout over Gardner-Webb on Oct. 6.

• Conversely, ASU has held its opponents to an 80.4-percent success rate in the red zone this season (41-of-51 — 32 TD, nine FG).

BIG PLAYS

• Big plays have been a staple of Appalachian's offense since going to a single-back, no-huddle scheme in 2004.

• Through 13 games, ASU has 67 offensive plays of 20 yards or more this season (7.0 percent of 952 total plays).

• Since the beginning of the 2004 season, when Appalachian switched to a no-huddle, spread offense, ASU gained 20-plus yards 257 times (7.4 percent of 3,483 total offensive plays).

TIME FLIES

• Of Appalachian's 64 offensive touchdown drives this season, 27 have lasted less than two minutes (42.2 percent).

• Of ASU's 65 offensive touchdown drives in regulation last season, 26 lasted less than two minutes (40 percent).

ROAD WARRIORS

• While much was made of Appalachian's school-record 30-game home winning streak, ASU has also proven to be a force to be reckoned with away from Kidd Brewer Stadium in recent years.

• Since going winless on the road in 2004, Appalachian is 12-2 versus FCS competition and 13-4 overall away from Kidd Brewer Stadium.

• Under Jerry Moore, Appalachian is 66-52 in road games. However, 17 of the 52 losses have come against FBS competition.

• ASU's drawing power translates to the road too — since the beginning of the 2006 season, Appalachian has played in front of capacity crowds in 18-of-22 regular-season games.

PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

• At least one Mountaineer has claimed one of the Southern Conference's weekly honors following eight of ASU's 11 games this season and 18 of the last 21 regular-season games overall.

• True freshman D.J. Smith became the latest Appalachian player honored by the SoCon when he was named the league's Defensive Player of the Week following his 14-tackle performance on Nov. 17 versus Chattanooga.

- D.J. Smith (Defensive) Nov. 17 vs. Chattanooga

ASU SWEEPS NOVEMBER P.O.M. PLAUDITS

• Appalachian swept the Southern Conference's November Player-of-the-Month awards when quarterback Armanti Edwards was named the SoCon's Offensive Player of the Month and D.J. Smith was named the league's Defensive Player of the Month.

• Edwards turned in one of the most impressive months in school history, totaling 1,243 yards and 16 touchdowns in four games.

• Edwards rushed for 615 yards on the month (153.8 per game) and 12 touchdowns while topping the 100-yard rushing mark three times in four games and running for multiple touchdowns in each contest. Through the air, the sophomore racked up 628 yards (157 per game) and four more touchdowns. He completed 67.5 percent of his passes (56-of-83) and was intercepted just twice on the month.

• On the defensive side of the ball, Smith led Appalachian in tackles (49), interceptions (2) and pass break-ups (3) and ranked second on the squad with four tackles for loss in four games.

• Smith notched double-digit tackles in three of the month's four games, including 16 on Nov. 3 at The Citadel, the most by an ASU freshman since Dexter Coakley's 21 vs. The Citadel in 1993. Also versus The Citadel, Smith returned the first of his two interceptions on the month 23 yards for a touchdown.

LYNCH — SEPTEMBER P.O.M.

• Thanks to 37 tackles, an interception and two blocked kicks, including the field-goal block as time expired to seal ASU's 34-32 win at Michigan, in five games, Corey Lynch was honored as the Southern Conference's Defensive Player of the Month in September.

• The honor marked the second-straight month that Lynch has brought home the award, as he was the SoCon Defensive Player of the Month after returning from a severe elbow injury to help lead the Apps to their second-straight national title last December.

NOTING THE WIN OVER MICHIGAN

• Appalachian turned the college football and sports worlds on end with its stunning 34-32 triumph over No. 5 (FBS) Michigan on Sept. 1.

• ASU became the first NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision (FCS — formerly Division I-AA) team to ever defeat a nationally ranked Football Bowl Subdivision (FBS — formerly Division I-A) since Division I split into football subdivisions in 1978.

• The Mountaineers led by as many as 14 points (28-14) in the second quarter.

• Quarterback Armanti Edwards was perfect in the first half, completing 7-of-7 passes for 129 yards and three touchdowns. He finished the game with 289 yards of total offense (227 passing, 62 rushing) and accounted for all four ASU touchdowns (three passing, one rushing).

• Appalachian blocked two field goals in the final 1:37, including a 37-yard, would-be-game-winning attempt, as time expired.

• Julian Rauch's 24-yard field goal with 26 seconds to go in the game marked ASU's first go-ahead field goal with under a minute to play since Erik Rockhold made a 31-yarder with 18 seconds remaining in a 24-21 win over Morehead State on Sept. 20, 2003.

• Dexter Jackson became the first Mountaineer to score multiple touchdowns versus an FBS opponent since Karim Razzak scored twice in a 20-16 win over Wake Forest in 2000.

• ASU's 34 points tied for its most ever versus an FBS opponent. The Apps also scored 34 in a 34-34 tie versus Wake Forest in 1988.

• A crowd of 109,218 — the largest ever for an ASU sporting event — was in attendance at the 107,501-seat Big House. The crowd topped the previous largest that the Mountaineers have ever played in front of (91,414 at LSU in 2005) by 119 percent.

FOURTH ESTATE FOLLOWS APPS INTENTLY

U-M PLAYERS OF THE WEEK

- Mountaineers hauled in a plethora of Southern Conference and national Player of the Week awards following the Sept. 1 win at Michigan.
- Armanti Edwards and Corey Lynch were named the SoCon's Offensive and Defensive Players of the Week, respectively.
- Both Edwards and Lynch also received National Player of the Week accolades from the Sports Media Entertainment (SME) Network.
- Finally, Lynch was named The Sports Network's national Special Teams Player of the Week.
- The national recognition was the third of Lynch's career and the SoCon award was his fourth.
- The national award was Edwards' second, while his SoCon Offensive Player of the Week plaudits were a first. He was named the SoCon's Freshman of the Week a record five times last season.

U-M TEAM OF THE WEEK

- Appalachian also brought in a number of team national Team of the Week awards after the stunning win over U-M.
- College Sporting News named the entire Mountaineer squad as one of its four National Weekly All-Stars.
- The Football Writers Association of America (FWAA) named ASU its Tostitos Fiesta Bowl National Team of the Week.
- Appalachian's stunning win over Michigan, highlighted by Corey Lynch's blocked field goal to seal the victory as time expired, earned ASU the Pontiac Game Changing Performance of the Week award. In fan voting on ESPN.com, ASU received 74 percent of the vote to win $5,000 prize for its general scholarship fund.
- Appalachian is now eligible for the $100,000 Pontiac Game Changing Performance of the Year at the conclusion of the 2007 season.

UNANIMOUS CHOICE TO THREE-PEAT

- Appalachian was a unanimous choice to win its third-straight Southern Conference championship by both the league's coaches and media.
- ASU received 7-of-8 first-place votes in the coaches' poll (coaches only vote for the conference's other seven teams) and claimed all 27 votes in the media poll.

ALL-AMERICA TRADITION

• Appalachian has placed at least one player on an all-America squad each of the last 21 seasons. In 18 of those seasons, including each of the last 11, the Mountaineers have produced at least one first-teamer.

• In 2006, a school-record eight Apps garnered all-America accolades, including four players that return in 2007: OL Kerry Brown, QB Armanti Edwards, DB Corey Lynch and RB Kevin Richardson.

MOUNTAINEERS IN THE NFL

• Appalachian boasts a long line of players who have gone on to careers in the National Football League, and three former Mountaineers are currently carrying on that tradition.

• Daniel Wilcox (1999-2000) is in his fourth season as a tight end with the Baltimore Ravens. He was rewarded with a long-term contract from the Ravens following the 2005 season.

• 2005 playoffs hero Jason Hunter beat the odds by making the Green Bay Packers as an undrafted rookie free agent in 2006. He is still with the Packers as a special-teams standout and backup defensive end.

• Hunter's former counterpart on the ASU defensive line, Marques Murrell signed a two-year contract with the New York Jets three weeks ago after spending the first half of the season on the Philadelphia Eagles' practice squad. He was active for the first time in his professional career in the Jets' 40-13 win at Miami last Sunday.

NO. 1 APPALACHIAN 34, NO. 5 (FBS) MICHIGAN 32

SEPT. 1, 2007 • ANN ARBOR, MICH.

MICHIGAN STADIUM (ATT. 109,218)

ANN ARBOR, Mich. (AP) — Julian Rauch's 24-yard field goal with 26 seconds left put Appalachian State University football ahead of the University of Michigan and Corey Lynch blocked a field goal in the final seconds to seal one of college football's biggest upsets as the Mountaineers prevailed, 34-32.

"We're still sort of shocked," coach Jerry Moore said after being carried off the field by his players.

The two-time defending champions from former Division I-AA were ahead of the nation's winningest program 28-14 late in the second quarter, then their storybook afternoon seemed to unravel late in the fourth quarter.

Mike Hart's 54-yard run put the Wolverines ahead -- for the first time since early in the second quarter -- with 4:36 left.

One snap after the go-ahead touchdown, Brandent Englemon intercepted an errant pass, but the Wolverines couldn't capitalize and had their first of two field goals blocked.

Appalachian State drove 69 yards without a timeout in 1:11 to set up the go-ahead field goal.

"I've been dreaming about that kick every day," Rauch said.

But it still wasn't over.

Chad Henne threw a 46-yard pass to Mario Manningham, giving Michigan the ball at Appalachian State's 20 with 6 seconds left.

Lynch blocked the kick and returned it to the other end of the field as the final seconds ticked off, and his teammates rushed across the field to pile on as the coaching staff and cheerleaders jumped with joy.

Appalachian State has won 15 straight games, the longest streak in the nation.

The Mountaineers are favored to win the Football Championship Subdivision -- formerly known as Division I-AA -- but they weren't expected to put up much of a fight against a team picked to win the Big Ten and contend for the national title.

That's the beauty of college football.

No Division I-AA team had beaten a team ranked in The Associated Press poll from 1989-2006, and it's unlikely that it happened after Division-I subdivisions were created in 1978.

Appalachian State is not eligible to receive votes in the AP Top 25 poll because the school is not in the Football Bowl Subdivision.

"I wouldn't call it embarrassing because that takes away from them," Hart said. "We're disappointed. I can tell you that.

"It is one of the biggest losses ever, but give all the credit to Appalachian State."

Appalachian State's win does seem to pass the one second-tier programs used to regard as their crowning achievement -- The Citadel's season-opening win in 1992 over Arkansas that led to the firing of Razorbacks coach Jack Crowe following the game.

Michigan coach Lloyd Carr will not get fired after this upset, but he might've wished he retired after last season when the Wolverines won 11 games and played in the Rose Bowl. Michigan has now lost three in a row over two seasons.

Carr will likely second-guess a lot from the game, and the practices that led to it, and might regret going for 2-point conversions twice in the final 15-plus minutes.

After Appalachian State went ahead 31-20, Hart scored with 24 seconds left in the third quarter and the 2-point conversion failed as Carr tried to pull within a field goal. Following Hart's late TD that put Michigan ahead by one, Carr couldn't justify kicking the extra point and backup running back Brandon Minor stumbled to the turf.

Carr didn't regret going for it both times, but did lament the many mistakes, penalties and missed opportunities after opening his news conference by giving Appalachian State credit.

"We were not a well-prepared football team," Carr said. "That is my job, and I take full responsibility."

The Mountaineers improved to 7-36-1 against top-tier teams since 1978, beating a team other than Wake Forest in such matchups for the first time.

Since beating Wake Forest in 2000, they had been respectable against strong programs, trailing LSU and JaMarcus Russell by two touchdowns entering the fourth quarter before losing 24-0 in 2005 and leading Auburn late in the third before losing by a TD in 1999.

But Appalachian State proved it belonged from start to finish, making up for a slight size disadvantage with more speed.

Quarterback Armanti Edwards threw for 227 yards, three scores and two interceptions while he kept Michigan guessing with enough skills running to have 62 yards rushing. Dexter Jackson caught three passes for 92 yards, and scored twice, including a 68-yard reception that tied the game early and provided a glimpse of what was coming over the next three hours.

Hart, who went almost two quarters without a carry because of an injury, ran for 188 yards and three touchdowns. Henne was 19-of-37 for 233 yards in a lackluster game that included a TD and an interception in Mountaineer territory.

NO. 1 APPALACHIAN 48, LENOIR-RHYNE 7

SEPT. 8, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.
 KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 28,802)

BOONE, N.C. — op-ranked Appalachian State University scored touchdowns on each of its first five possessions and cruised to a 48-7 win over Lenoir-Rhyne in front of a record crowd of 28,802 at Kidd Brewer Stadium.

Appalachian (2-0) added a field goal on its sixth possession to take a commanding 38-0 lead just over midway through the second quarter. From there, ASU pulled a number of its starters and threw just six more passes the rest of the way in cruising to the easy win.

Making his first start in nearly a year, senior quarterback Trey Elder turned in a career performance, totaling 300 yards of offense and accounting for five touchdowns in just three quarters of play.

Filling in for starter Armanti Edwards, who was dressed and available to play but sat out with a shoulder injury, Elder completed 9-of-13 passes for 210 yards and four touchdowns while running for 90 more yards and another score. His 300 yards of total offense were a career high.

Elder wasted no time in leading the Mountaineers to a comfortable advantage, as none of the six first-half scoring drives lasted more than 2:49. He connected with Sports Illustrated cover-boy Dexter Jackson for touchdown connections of 18 and 59 yards and added scoring strikes of 42 yards to Tavaris Washington and 33 yards to tight end Nic Cardwell, mixed in with a three-yard touchdown run of his own.

Julian Rauch booted a pair of 40-yard field goals and Devon Moore added a 12-yard touchdown run to close out the ASU scoring.

The Mountaineers were on the verge of registering just their second shutout in eight seasons when L-R's Andrew Courman, the brother of ASU wide receiver T.J. Courman, scored from five yards out with 44 seconds remaining in the ballgame.

Freshman linebacker D.J. Smith led the Apps' defensive effort with a game-high 12 tackles. Defensive end Gary Tharrington chipped in with eight tackles, including a sack and one-and-a-half stops for loss.

James Pone ran 23 times for 91 yards to lead Lenoir-Rhyne (0-2). In all, Appalachian out-gained L-R, 403-195, despite the Bears holding a more than 13-minute advantage in time of possession.

NOTES: Appalachian extended its NCAA Division I Football Championship Subdivision- (FCS – formerly Division I-AA) best winning streaks to 16 games overall and 28 in-a-row at home ... the 16-game overall winning streak is tops in all of Division I, while the 28-game home winning streak is second only to USC (34 games) ... ASU has set new single-game attendance records each of the past three seasons (26,620 vs. Elon in 2006 and 25,584 vs. Western Carolina in 2005) ... the 28,802 on hand marked the largest crowd to ever witness a Lenoir-Rhyne sporting event ... Jackson moved into fifth place on ASU's all-time touchdown reception list with 13 for his career ... he needs just one more to tie former teammate Daniel Bettis for fourth on the list ... linebacker Pierre Banks recorded the Apps' third field-goal block of the young season when he swatted away a 39-yard attempt in the second quarter ... junior left tackle Brad Coley made his first-career start in place of all-conference performer Mario Acitelli ... like Edwards, Acitelli was dressed and available to play but held out due to a shoulder injury.

NO. 1 APPALACHIAN 34, NORTHERN ARIZONA 21

SEPT. 15, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.

KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 27,104)

BOONE, N.C. — Trey Elder totaled 298 yards of offense and Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson set career highs with seven receptions for 122 yards and two touchdowns to lead top-ranked Appalachian State University to a 34-21 victory over Northern Arizona at Kidd Brewer Stadium.

An overflow crowd of 27,104, the second-largest in KBS history, saw Appalachian (3-0) rack up a season-high 429 yards of total offense in the win.

However, the Mountaineers' 17th-straight victory and 29th in-a-row at home didn't come easy, as Northern Arizona (1-2) pushed the Apps from the beginning. NAU forced the Mountaineers into three-straight three-and-out series to start the game and were out-gaining the Apps 125-19 at one point en route to a 3-0 lead through one quarter. The damage could have been worse, but the Black and Gold defense held Northern Arizona to just three points on two trips inside the ASU 15-yard line in the opening period.

Appalachian got on track at the end of the first quarter, as it marched into Lumberjack territory before Elder found Richardson on a 34-yard catch-and-run to give ASU a 7-3 lead on the first play of the second period.

After the Lumberjacks responded with another field goal, Elder marched the Mountaineers right back to paydirt, going 59 yards in nine plays, culminating with a 12-yard touchdown pass to Hans Batichon that made it 14-6.

Thanks to a blocked field goal on the final play of the first half by Jerome Touchstone, Appalachian took the 14-6 advantage into the locker room. The field-goal block was Appalachian's fourth in three games this season.

Julian Rauch capped the Mountaineers' first two possessions of the second half with field goals to stretch the ASU lead to 20-6. However, NAU drew back within seven points on an acrobatic 18-yard touchdown pass from Lance Kriesien to Skyler Moore with less than three minutes remaining in the third quarter.

The score remained 20-13 until Richardson hauled in his second touchdown reception of the afternoon, a 47-yarder from Elder that gave ASU a 27-13 advantage with less than 10 minutes to play. Five minutes later, Appalachian put the game on ice when Trey Hennessee separated NAU punt returner K.J. Gerard from the ball and Cortez Gilbert scooped up the loose ball and returned it 32 yards to give ASU a 34-13 lead.

A one-yard touchdown rush by Kriesien and two-point conversion in the waning minutes accounted for the final margin.

Making his second-straight start in place of banged up starter Armanti Edwards, Elder completed 15-of-22 passes without an interception for 216 yards and three scores. He also ran 19 times for 82 yards.

Richardson went over the 1,000-yard receiving mark for his illustrious career with the 122-yard performance. He added 58 yards on 15 carries to finish with 180 all-purpose yards, the fifth-highest output of his career.

Jacque Roman led the Apps' defensive effort with a game-high 14 tackles. Corey Lynch added 10 stops and a pass break-up and defensive tackle Anthony Williams chipped in with nine tackles, including two behind the line of scrimmage and a sack.

Kriesien led the Lumberjacks with 300 yards of total offense (171 passing, 129 rushing).

NOTES: In addition to holding the nation's longest overall winning streak in Division I and the nation's longest home winning streak in Division I FCS (Football Championship Subdivision — formerly Division I-AA), Appalachian has also won 23-straight games versus FCS competition ... ASU's last loss to an FCS opponent was a 34-31 setback at Furman on Oct. 8, 2005 ... Saturday's attendance is second only to last week's crowd of 28,802 in KBS history ... the Mountaineers evened their all-time record versus opponents from the Big Sky Conference at 2-2 ... Justin Woazeah's interception in the fourth quarter was the eighth of his career, moving him within one of ASU's all-time top 10.

NO. 13 WOFFORD 42, NO. 1 APPALACHIAN 31

SEPT. 22, 2007 • SPARTANBURG, S.C.
GIBBS STADIUM (ATT. 11,042)

SPARTANBURG, S.C. — No. 13 Wofford ran for 291 yards and converted 11-of-19 third-down attempts to knock off top-ranked Appalachian State University, 42-31, on Saturday afternoon at Gibbs Stadium. Appalachian's first setback in 385 days snapped the nation's longest winning streak at 17 games.

Appalachian (3-1, 0-1 Southern Conference), which trailed by 11 points three times in the second half, cut the deficit to 35-31 with 8:18 left to play on Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson's second touchdown run of the day.

Wofford (3-1, 1-0 SoCon) proceeded to run 6:03 off the clock with a 12-play drive, but Michael Hobbs' fumble at the ASU seven yard line was recovered by Corey Lynch to give the Mountaineers one last chance with 2:15 remaining in the ballgame.

However, the Apps couldn't take advantage of the Terriers' only turnover of the afternoon and their drive stalled at the 30 yard line with 58 seconds to go. Three plays later, the Terriers capped the upset with a 27-yard touchdown run by Kevious Johnson.

Wofford sealed their first-ever win over a top-ranked team by converting all five of its third-down attempts in the fourth quarter and holding the ball for 10:16 in the final period.

In all, Wofford out-gained ASU, 431-320, including a 291-112 advantage on the ground. The run-happy Terriers also completed 10-of-13 passes, including 49-yard touchdown bomb in the first quarter and a nine-yard score on a halfback pass in the fourth.

Making his first start since the Mountaineers' monumental win over Michigan three weeks ago, quarterback Armanti Edwards completed 11-of-18 passes for 103 yards and ran 11 times for a team-high 37 yards before re-aggravating his shoulder injury on ASU's second play of the second half. In his absence, Trey Elder threw for 105 yards and ran for 33 more. Senior wide receiver Hans Batichon set career highs with six receptions for 93 yards.

NOTES: In addition to the 17-game overall winning streak, ASU's setback also snapped a 23-game winning streak versus Division I Football Championship Subdivision (FCS — formerly Division I-AA) competition and a string of 12-straight triumphs over SoCon foes ... both streaks dated back to a 34-31 loss at Furman on Oct. 8, 2005 ... Appalachian fell to 28-8 all-time in SoCon openers and 4-8 all-time versus Wofford in Spartanburg ... CoCo Hillary's 95-yard kickoff return to tie the contest at 14-14 in the second quarter was the Mountaineers' first KO return for a touchdown since Jimmy Watkins' 95-yarder versus Wofford in 2000 ... ASU returned 281 kickoffs between touchdowns.

NO. 5 APPALACHIAN 49, NO. 24 ELON 32

SEPT. 29, 2007 • ELON, N.C.

RHODES STADIUM (ATT. 13,100)

ELON, N.C. — Led by Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson and senior quarterback Trey Elder, No. 5 Appalachian State University ran for 365 yards — its highest total in seven years — en route to a 49-32 triumph over No. 24 Elon at sold-out Rhodes Stadium.

Richardson registered his first 100-yard day of the season with 158 yards on 26 carries and Elder chipped in with a career-high 115 yards on 18 carries. The Mountaineers' 365 rushing yards were its most since racking up a school-record 424 in a 52-0 win over VMI on Nov. 4, 2000.

Trailing 10-7 late in the second quarter, Appalachian (4-1, 1-1 Southern Conference) turned the tide of the game when Elon made an errant snap on a punt from its 45 yard line and ASU's Corey Lynch blocked the kick, giving the Mountaineers possession on Elon's 22. The blocked kick was the Apps' fifth in five games this season, good for tops in the nation.

Two plays later, Elder ran it in from 14 yards out to give ASU a 14-10 halftime advantage.

The score remained 14-10 until 3:32 to go in the third quarter, when Elder scored the last of his three rushing touchdowns from six yards out to stretch the Mountaineer lead to 21-10. But thanks to an 83-yard return on the ensuing kickoff by Michael Mayers, the Phoenix needed just three plays to cut the Apps' lead back to four points.

The final period, however, was all ASU. Touchdown runs from Devon Moore and Richardson sandwiched a 100-yard kickoff return by Mayers to give Appalachian a 35-24 advantage with 5:15 to go.

Two snaps after Richardson's touchdown, Titus Howard put a dagger in Elon's upset bid when he intercepted a Scott Riddle pass and returned it 41 yards for a touchdown that gave the Mountaineers a commanding 42-24 lead.

Elon cut the deficit back to 10 points at 42-32 with a six-play, 67-yard touchdown drive and two-point conversion, but following a recovered onside kick, ASU sealed the win by marching 39 yards in three plays, capped by a 24-yard touchdown run on a reverse to Dexter Jackson.

In all, Appalachian rolled up 526 yards of total offense, while holding Elon (2-2, 0-1 SoCon) and its top-ranked passing attack to just 371 yards, including just 118 after halftime.

The Mountaineers' sterling defensive effort was led by defensive end Tim Washington. Making his first start at ASU in place of a banged-up Gary Tharrington, Washington tallied three-and-a-half sacks for a loss of 22 yards to go along with seven tackles and a quarterback hurry. Cornerback Justin Woazeah led the Apps with nine tackles while Lynch added an interception in the end zone to go along with his punt block.

Mayers led the Phoenix with 14 receptions for 162 yards and a touchdown while setting SoCon records for kick-return (225) and all-purpose (387) yardage. Riddle completed 32-of-51 passes for 307 yards. He tossed two touchdowns and two interceptions.

NOTES: The crowd of 13,100 was the largest in Rhodes Stadium history and marked the 14th time in the last 16 regular-season games that Appalachian has played in front of a capacity crowd ... The Mountaineers moved to 15-0 all-time when Richardson rushes for 100 yards ... Richardson surpassed Damon Scott (3,800 yds. – 1993-96) for second on ASU's all-time rushing list ... with 3,808 rushing yards for his illustrious career, Richardson needs just 602 yards to surpass John Settle's school record of 4,409 ... Elder moved to 6-1 all-time as a starter ... head coach Jerry Moore announced following the game that starting quarterback Armanti Edwards, who did not dress for Saturday's contest (shoulder), will likely not play next Saturday versus Gardner-Webb ... Appalachian moved to 13-0 in its last 13 games immediately proceeding a loss ... ASU has not lost back-to-back games since the first two outings of the 2003 season ... Howard's INT return for a touchdown was the second of his career ... he returned a pickoff 70 yards for a score at Elon in 2005 ... Lynch's kick block was his fifth (four field goals, one punt) in his last 12 games.

NO. 5 APPALACHIAN 45, GARDNER-WEBB 7

OCT. 6, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.

KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 27,428)

BOONE, N.C. — Led by Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson’s four second-quarter touchdowns, No. 5 Appalachian State University rattled off 38 unanswered points to defeat Gardner-Webb, 45-7, on Saturday afternoon at sold-out Kidd Brewer Stadium.

In front of an Appalachian homecoming-record crowd of 27,428, Appalachian (5-1) out-gained Gardner-Webb (2-3), 466-211, to extend its home winning streak to 30 games. The home winning streak, which dates back to the beginning of the 2003 season, is the nation’s longest in NCAA Division I FCS (Football Championship Subdivision – formerly Division I-AA) and the second-longest in all of Division I, behind only USC’s 35-game winning streak at Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum.

The Mountaineers’ offensive attack was potent from the get-go, as quarterback Trey Elder found Hans Batichon for a 67-yard touchdown pass on the game’s opening play.

After a muffed punt set up the Bulldogs’ only touchdown and sent the ballgame into the second quarter tied at 7-7, Richardson took over. The senior scored all four of his touchdowns in the second period, carrying the ball to paydirt from three, five, six and three yards to give the Apps a commanding 35-7 halftime lead. The four-touchdown effort was the fourth of Richardson’s career and marked his 18th multi-touchdown performance.

With most of ASU’s starters out of the game following halftime, redshirt freshman wide receiver CoCo Hillary took over the reins at quarterback for the first time in his collegiate career. Hillary was impressive in his debut behind center, completing 3-of-3 passes for 67 yards and rushing three times for 20 yards to lead ASU to a touchdown on his first series. He went on to lead Appalachian to a field goal on his only other drive and finished the afternoon with 83 yards on 4-of-5 passing and 35 more on nine carries.

The nation’s fifth-rated passer coming in, Elder had another strong performance, going 14-for-18 for 229 yards and a touchdown to move to 7-1 in his career as a starter. Batichon caught six passes for a career-high 132 yards while Richardson finished with 80 yards on 17 carries. All three stars’ totals came in the first half.

Defensively, Tim Washington and Gary Tharrington led a revamped Mountaineer defensive front with a combined 14 tackles, including two and two-and-a-half, respectively, behind the line of scrimmage. Justin Woazeah broke up five passes to help limit GWU to just 107 yards on 11-of-32 passing.

NOTES: ASU moved to 33-11-2 all-time on homecoming with its 22nd win in its last 26 homecoming games at Kidd Brewer Stadium ... ASU is 5-0 all-time versus Gardner-Webb, winning the five games by an average score of 38-9 ... the win was Appalachian’s 14th-straight over current members of the Big South Conference ... the Mountaineers haven’t lost to a non-conference opponent on homecoming since a dropping a 38-7 decision to Ball State in 1977 ... the 38-point loss was the worst of the season for Gardner-Webb, whose previous two losses were by 18 and 16 points, respectively, at Bowl Subdivision opponents Ohio and Mississippi State ... the 67-yard touchdown on the opening play was the longest pass of Elder’s career (prev. 65 vs. Texas State, 2004) and longest reception of Batichon’s career (prev. 44 vs. Southern Illinois, 2005) ... Julian Rauch’s 49-yard field goal in the fourth quarter was a career long ... ASU featured a new look along the defensive front on Saturday, with Washington at left end, Tharrington at left tackle, Anthony Williams at right tackle and true freshman Jabari Fletcher at right end ... the start was the first of Fletcher’s career and the first at new positions for Washington and Tharrington (both of whom made their previous starts at right end) ... three offensive tackles – Mario Acitelli (ankle), Jonathan Bieschke (knee) and Pat Mills (ankle) sat out due to injuries ... in their stead, Brad Coley made his third start at left tackle, John Holt moved over from his right guard position to right tackle and Daniel Kilgore made his first-career start at right guard.

GEORGIA SOUTHERN 38, NO. 5 APPALACHIAN 35

OCT. 20, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.

KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 28,202)

BOONE, N.C. — Despite 557 yards of total offense and a furious fourth-quarter rally, Appalachian State University's 30-game home winning streak came to an end with a heartbreaking 38-35 loss to Georgia Southern at Kidd Brewer Stadium.

No. 5 Appalachian (5-2, 2-2 SoCon) fell behind by two touchdowns just over two minutes into the game and trailed 38-20 with under eight minutes to play. On only his fourth play of the game, senior quarterback Trey Elder scored from on a 19-yard run to bring ASU within 11 points at 38-27.

The Mountaineers forced Georgia Southern to punt on its ensuing possession, but took over on their own nine yard line. However, On the strength of 58- and 21-yard passes from Armanti Edwards to Hans Batichon and Kevin Richardson, the Apps marched 91 yards in eight plays and 1:41, capped by a one-yard touchdown plunge by Devon Moore that cut the deficit to 38-33. Elder came back into the contest and completed a pass to Batichon for a two-point conversion that made it 38-35 with 2:02 left to play.

ASU stuffed GSU on three-straight plays and took all three of its timeouts to force the Eagles to punt again with 1:10 remaining on the clock. Dexter Jackson fielded the Daniel Jordan kick at the ASU 46 and returned it inside the GSU 20, seemingly setting up at least a game-tying field goal. However, the return was called back due to an illegal-block penalty and six plays later, Edwards came up a yard short on fourth-and-11 to end the ballgame.

Making only his third start of the year and first since Sept. 22, Edwards became the first quarterback in ASU history to rush for over 200 yards with 220 yards on 29 carries. The sophomore broke his own school record for rushing yards by a quarterback (172 last Nov. 25 versus Coastal Carolina) by 48 and also threw for 178 yards to match his career high with 398 yards of total offense (also set last season against CCU).

Edwards' counterpart, Jayson Foster, was almost as spectacular for Georgia Southern. The senior lined up at three different positions (quarterback, running back and wide receiver) and finished the afternoon with 175 yards on 20 rushes, 41 yards on three receptions and 14 yards on 3-of-3 passing. GSU complemented the do-it-all Foster with a pure passer in Billy Lowe, who completed 8-of-11 passes for 145 yards and a touchdown in the victory.

With its first home loss since a 14-13 setback to Maine in the first round of the 2002 NCAA Division I-AA playoffs, Appalachian put itself in a precarious position to defend its back-to-back Southern Conference championships, as only one team with two conference losses (5-2 Furman in 1981) has even shared a SoCon title in the 85-year history of the league. However, there are no undefeated teams remaining in the SoCon this season following Wofford's 24-13 loss to Elon on Saturday.

NOTES: Saturday's crowd of 28,202 was the second-largest in Appalachian history, behind only the 28,802 that witnessed ASU's 48-7 win over Lenoir-Rhyne in this season's home opener ... Richardson scored both of ASU's first-half touchdowns, marking the 19th time in his career and fourth time in the last five games that ASU's all-time touchdown king has scored multiple touchdowns in a game ... senior Hans Batichon caught four passes for 95 yards to go over the 1,000-yard career receiving mark with 1,061 ... offensive tackle Mario Acitelli (leg) was injured in the first quarter and will likely miss a number of games.

NO. 10 APPALACHIAN 34, FURMAN 27

OCT. 27, 2007 • GREENVILLE, S.C.
PALADIN STADIUM (ATT. 13,811)

GREENVILLE, S.C. — Buck Buchanan Award candidate Corey Lynch's interception at the ASU three yard line as time expired sealed No. 10 Appalachian State University's 34-27 win over Furman at Paladin Stadium.

Appalachian (6-2, 2-2 SoCon) jumped out to a 24-7 halftime lead and took a 14-point advantage into the fourth quarter but Furman's 20 second-half points left the outcome in doubt until the game's final seconds, as has become the norm in the ASU-FU rivalry.

Early on, it appeared that Saturday's showdown was going to be more like last season's 40-7 triumph in Boone than the previous seven games between the Mountaineers and Paladins that were decided by a total of just 21 points. Sparked by Armanti Edwards' 251 yards of total offense in the first half alone, the Mountaineers cruised to the 17-point halftime advantage.

The two teams traded touchdowns to start the second half, but Furman used a pair of Scott Beckler field goals to chip the Appalachian lead to 31-20 early in the fourth quarter.

Julian Rauch's second field goal of the afternoon stretched the Mountaineer cushion back to 14 points midway through the final period, but the Paladins answered with a one-yard touchdown plunge by Jerome Felton to cut the deficit to 34-27 with 3:27 remaining.

Following the Furman score, ASU recovered an onside kick and got a first down, which forced FU to use both of its remaining timeouts. However, Appalachian's opportunity to put the game away with a field goal was thwarted when Furman blocked Rauch's 42-yard attempt with 1:11 left to play.

On the ensuing drive, the Paladins marched 47 yards to the ASU 29 with seven seconds remaining. However, their last-ditch effort to send the game to overtime was snuffed out by Lynch when he stepped in front of Reynaldo Gray's pass at the three yard line and picked it off. The senior from Cape Coral, Fla. returned his 20th-career interception to midfield, sending the clock to all zeroes and the Mountaineers pouring onto the field in jubilation.

Despite the last-second defensive stand, the story of the day was Appalachian's offense, which rolled up 511 yards of offense and extended its school record by topping the 30-point mark for the eighth-straight game.

Edwards finished with 337 yards of total offense (211 passing, 126 rushing) to lead the offensive attack. Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson added 124 yards on 21 carries (5.9 yards per rush) to become just the second player in ASU history with 4,000 career rushing yards. At 4,100 yards for his illustrious career, Richardson needs just 310 to surpass John Settle (4,409 – 1983-86) as Appalachian's all-time leading rusher.

Defensively, Lynch led all players with 12 tackles, while defensive end Gary Tharrington overcame an assortment of bumps and bruises to add nine stops. Spurred by 11 tackles for loss, the Mountaineer defense limited Furman to 402 yards of offense, including just 110 before halftime.

Gray, Edwards' first cousin, ran for 103 yards and passed for 154 more to lead Furman (3-5, 1-3 SoCon).

With only its fifth win ever over Furman in Greenville, Appalachian remained in contention for its third-straight Southern Conference championship. ASU stands just one game in the loss column behind conference leaders Elon (6-2, 4-1 SoCon) and Wofford (7-2, 4-1 SoCon).

NOTES: Appalachian moved to 14-0 in its last 14 games following a loss ... the Mountaineers haven't lost consecutive games since falling to Hawaii and Eastern Kentucky to open the 2003 season ... in four quarters spanning the second half of last year's game and the first half this season, ASU outscored Furman, 50-7 ... the Apps snapped a two-game losing streak in televised games with the victory, which was televised live regionally on SportSouth ... Appalachian had won 16-straight televised games before losses to Wofford (SportSouth) and Georgia Southern (MASN) this season ... ASU moved to 17-0 in games which Lynch has intercepted a pass and 16-0 in games when Richardson has rushed for 100 yards ... Edwards' 100-yard rushing performance was the eighth of his career ... Edwards' two rushing touchdowns give him 19 for his career, good for a tie with Tim Sanders (1985-88) for ninth all-time on ASU's career list ... Richardson and Edwards have rushed for 100 yards apiece in four of Edwards' last eight games.

NO. 9 APPALACHIAN 45, THE CITADEL 24

NOV. 3, 2007 • CHARLESTON, S.C.

JOHNSON HAGOOD STADIUM (ATT. 19,697)

CHARLESTON, S.C. — Quarterback Armanti Edwards rushed for a school-record 291 yards and led No. 9 Appalachian State University into a virtual tie for first place in the wild Southern Conference with 45-24 victory at The Citadel on Saturday.

Edwards' 291 yards came on just 21 carries (13.9 ypr), including touchdown runs of 80 (a career long and Appalachian's longest play of the season) and 25 yards. In the process, the sophomore also broke ASU's career record for rushing yards by a quarterback, needing just 20 games to amass 1,889 yards on the ground and obliterate the previous record of 1,621 racked up by current Mountaineer quarterbacks coach Scott Satterfield from 1992-95.

Combined with losses by Wofford (38-35 vs. Georgia Southern) and Elon (52-49 at Furman), Appalachian (7-2, 3-2 SoCon) has moved back into a virtual tie for first place in its pursuit of a third-straight SoCon title. ASU is tied in the loss column with Elon (6-3, 4-2 SoCon), Georgia Southern (7-2, 4-2 SoCon) and Wofford (7-3, 4-2 SoCon) atop the SoCon standings.

Thanks in large part to Edwards' 341 yards of total offense (211 rushing, 130 passing) in the first half alone, the Mountaineers jumped out to a 31-14 halftime lead.

The Citadel (5-4, 3-3 SoCon) scored the first 10 points of the second half to cut the Mountaineer advantage to 31-24, but Edwards and the Apps dominated the fourth quarter to earn their 13th win in the last 14 tries versus the Bulldogs.

Clinging to the seven-point lead, Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson broke off a 43-yard run on the second play of the final period to move Appalachian inside the Citadel 10 yard line. Two plays later, Richardson dove in from a yard out to stretch the ASU advantage back to 14 at 38-24.

After forcing a three-and-out, the Mountaineers sealed the triumph with a 10-play, 70-yard drive, capped by Edwards' 25-yard touchdown run with 8:16 remaining in the ballgame.

From there, the only drama left was whether Edwards would break the ASU single-game rushing record set by Ritchie Melchor, who rushed for 267 (on 36 carries) versus Chattanooga on Oct. 28, 1989. On third-and-15 from the ASU 23 with about five minutes remaining, Edwards ended the suspense by breaking off a 29-yard run to grab the record and end his spectacular day.

In addition to the rushing records, Edwards also completed 10-of-20 passes for 148 yards, giving him 439 yards of total offense, the fourth-highest mark in school history (and the most by anyone not named Richie Williams).

Spurred by Edwards and Richardson (68 yards on 14 carries), Appalachian rushed for 439 yards en route to 587 total yards, its most since posting 594 yards in last season's 56-21 win at Chattanooga.

Defensively, the Mountaineers were led by true freshman linebacker D.J. Smith, who racked up a game-high 16 tackles (1.5 for loss) and returned his first-career interception 23 yards for a touchdown early in the second quarter. Defensive end Tony Robertson chipped in by being in on 1.5 of ASU's five sacks.

NOTES: The Mountaineers topped 30 points for the ninth-straight game, extending its school record ... the previous ASU record for consecutive 30-point games was six, set last season ... Appalachian outscored The Citadel 21-3 in the second quarter, upping ASU's scoring advantage in the second period this season to 135-30 ... the Apps moved to 52-12 in games played in November under head coach Jerry Moore ... Appalachian upped its record to 14-4 in games played away from home since 2005.

NO. 7 APPALACHIAN 79, WESTERN CAROLINA 35

NOV. 10, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.
 KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 27,977)

BOONE, N.C. — No. 7 Appalachian State University scored on each of its first eight possessions and went on to register its highest offensive output in 71 years in a 79-35 rout over archrival Western Carolina on Saturday afternoon at Kidd Brewer Stadium. With the victory, Appalachian (8-2, 4-2 SoCon) kept custody of the Old Mountain Jug for the 21st time in 23 years and moved within one victory of its third-straight Southern Conference championship.

Appalachian's 79 points and 743 yards were both the second-highest totals in school history, behind only the 788 yards amassed in a 115-0 win at Piedmont on Sept. 26, 1936.

The Mountaineers actually trailed 7-3 early in the first quarter after Western Carolina (1-9, 0-6 SoCon) answered an ASU field goal with a nine-play, 80-yard touchdown drive on its opening drive.

From there, however, it was all ASU, as it found the end zone on each of its next seven drives to take a commanding 52-21 lead less than two minutes into the second half. In all, Appalachian scored 10 touchdowns and kicked a field goal in its 14 possessions and added an 11th touchdown on a 65-yard interception return by Buck Buchanan Award candidate Corey Lynch. ASU did not punt once.

The trio of Walter Payton Award candidate running back Kevin Richardson, quarterback Armanti Edwards and wide receiver Hans Batichon. Richardson rushed for a career-high 215 yards on just 22 carries (9.8 ypr) and scored touchdowns from four, 42 and four yards out. The senior upped his career rushing total to 4,383 yards, just 26 shy of ASU's all-time record of 4,409, set by John Settle (1983-86) and broke Settle's school record for all-purpose yardage by upping his career total to 5,702 yards, 137 better than Settle's previous record mark.

Edwards completed a career-high 26 passes on just attempts for 295 yards and accounted for a career-best five touchdowns (two passing, three rushing) in just two-and-a-half quarters of play. Both of his touchdown passes (seven and 10 yards) went to Batichon, who hauled in a career-high seven passes for 114 yards.

In the first half alone, the Mountaineers racked up 474 yards of offense, including Richardson's 145 on the ground and Edwards' 257 through the air, and scored seven times in seven possessions. The 45 points were the most in a half for the Apps since they scored 45 in the first half of a 64-14 win over West Virginia Tech in 2001.

Defensively, ASU got a season-high four interceptions from Lynch, linebackers D.J. Smith and Pierre Banks and cornerback Jerome Touchstone. Lynch's interception was the 21st of his career, moving him alone into second place on Appalachian's all-time list, behind only Larry Harbin (25 - 1961-64). The touchdown was the third of his illustrious career.

Appalachian needs a win over Chattanooga in next Saturday's regular-season finale to earn a share of the SoCon title with Wofford, which clinched no worse than a tie for the title and the league's automatic berth to the NCAA Division I playoffs with a 42-16 victory at UTC on Saturday. Elon and Georgia Southern were eliminated from championship contention with losses to The Citadel and Furman, respectively, on Saturday. ASU is bidding to become the first team to win three-consecutive SoCon titles since Georgia Southern won six-straight from 1997-2002.

NOTES: Appalachian moved to 17-0 all-time when Richardson rushes for 100 yards and 18-0 when Lynch intercepts a pass ... ASU had a 100-yard rusher and 100-yardreceiver in the same game for the first time since Edwards ran for 140 and Richardson had 101 receiving in last-season's 27-20, double-overtime victory at Georgia Southern ... the 114 combined points were the most in 80 all-time meetings between Appalachian and Western Carolina and the most in any ASU game since 115 in a 59-56 loss at Chattanooga in 2004 ... every non-injured, non-redshirting player saw action for the Mountaineers except for punter Neil Young ... game-time temperature was 43 degrees but fell to 36 by the end of the game ... the sell-out crowd of 27,977 was the largest to ever witness the Battle for the Old Mountain Jug ... Appalachian's five-largest home crowds ever have come in this season's five home games.

NO. 6 APPALACHIAN 37, CHATTANOOGA 17

NOV. 17, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.

KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 23,328)

BOONE, N.C. — It was a record-setting day at Kidd Brewer Stadium, as Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson became Appalachian State University's all-time leading rusher and Appalachian claimed its third-straight Southern Conference championship with a 37-17 win over Chattanooga.

Appalachian (9-2, 5-2 SoCon) became just the seventh team in the 86-year history of the SoCon to win three-consecutive conference titles, joining Duke (1943-45), West Virginia (1953-56), Chattanooga (1977-79), Furman (1980-83 and 1988-90) and Georgia Southern (1997-2002) as the only programs to accomplish the feat. After winning back-to-back outright championships, ASU shares the 2007 crown with Wofford (8-3, 5-2 SoCon). Both teams will represent the SoCon in the 16-team 2007 NCAA Division I Championship field, with league foes The Citadel, Elon and Georgia Southern (all 7-4, 4-3 SoCon) clinging to hopes to also earn a bid out of the nation's top-ranked Division I Football Championship Subdivision conference (according to the latest Sagarin ratings).

Not to be overshadowed was the accomplishment by Richardson, a former walk-on who ran past ASU legend John Settle (1983-86) for top billing in the school's all-time rushing annals. Richardson, who needed just 27 yards coming in to surpass Settle's record mark of 4,409, wasted no time in making history, as he broke the record on a 10-yard gallop with 9:21 remaining in the first quarter.

From there, it became the Armanti Edwards show, as the sophomore quarterback scored on runs of seven, 28 and 40 yards in the first period to help the Mountaineers open up a 21-7 advantage.

Chattanooga (2-9, 2-5 SoCon) came roaring back in the second quarter, as it marched inside the ASU 20 yard line four times in the period. However, Appalachian limited UTC to just 10 points on the four red-zone trips and took a slim 21-17 lead into the locker room at halftime.

After surrendering 299 yards of offense in the first half, the Mountaineer defense turned up the pressure after the break. The Apps didn't allow Chattanooga to cross the 50 yard line after the midway point of the third quarter and forced four turnovers en route to limiting the Mocs to just 99 yards of offense in the second half.

Late in the third period, defensive end Gary Tharrington turned the tide of the game when he forced and recovered a fumble by Chattanooga's Brent Hayes at the UTC 29 yard line. Five plays later, Edwards scored his fourth touchdown of the afternoon from two yards out to give ASU a 27-17 cushion.

Thanks to great field position attained on a 17-yard punt by UTC's Jonathan Wright, the Mountaineers stretched the lead to 30-17 on Julian Rauch's 23-yard field goal with 8:54 remaining.

The Black and Gold defense put the finishing touches on the victory with 36 seconds remaining, when Buck Buchanan Award candidate Corey Lynch drilled Moc receiver Clint Woods as he caught a pass and Justin Woazeah scooped up the loose ball and returned it 32 yards for his first-career touchdown to close out the scoring.

Lynch helped the Mountaineers' sterling defensive effort in the second half with an interception and a pass break-up to go along with the forced fumble. The interception was the 22nd of his career (three shy of the school record), fourth of the season and third in the past four games.

Tharrington added 10 tackles, including the forced fumble and recovery, two-and-a-half tackles for loss, a sack and a pair of quarterback hurries and Titus Howard picked off his second pass of the season. Freshman linebacker D.J. Smith led all players with 14 stops.

Offensively, Edwards and Richardson both went over the 100-yard rushing mark for the fifth time in the last 11 games they've played in together, with Edward rolling up a game-high 157 yards on the ground and Richardson chipping in with 103. Richardson's record rushing total now stands at 4,486 yards while Edwards became the fastest player in school history to reach the 2,000-yard rushing plateau. In just 22 career games, Edwards has rushed for 2,081 yards, already the ninth-highest mark in school history and most ever by an ASU quarterback.

NOTES: Appalachian defeated Chattanooga for the 12th-straight time at home ... ASU's last loss to UTC in Boone was in 1983 ... the Mountaineers set a school record with their 11th 30-point game of the season, breaking last year's record of 10 ... with a crowd of 23,328, Appalachian won the FCS regular-season total attendance title with a cumulative attendance of 162,481 (27,080 average) in six regular-season home games, despite hosting one less home date than second-place Montana, which drew 162,635 fans in seven home games ... Appalachian moved to 18-0 all-time when Richardson rushes for 100 yards and 19-0 when Lynch intercepts a pass ... Edwards' 100-yard rushing effort was the 10th of his career ... Edwards' four rushing touchdowns were a career high.

NO. 5 APPALACHIAN 28, NO. 12 JAMES MADISON 27

2007 NCAA DIVISION I CHAMPIONSHIP FIRST ROUND • NOV. 24, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.
 KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 14,040)

BOONE, N.C. — Armanti Edwards scored the go-ahead touchdown with 1:10 remaining and Jacque Roman forced a fumble at the ASU nine yard line with just 22 seconds left to play to give fifth-ranked Appalachian State University a heart-stopping 28-27 win over No. 12 James Madison in the first round of the 2007 NCAA Division I Football Championship at Kidd Brewer Stadium.

With its ninth-straight postseason victory, Appalachian (10-2) advanced to the national quarterfinals where it will host Eastern Washington (9-3), a 44-15 winner over second-seeded McNeese State.

The Mountaineers used big plays throughout the game to overcome disadvantages in nearly every statistical category, most notably time of possession, where James Madison (8-4) held a whopping 40:27-19:33 edge. JMU also boasted huge advantages in total plays (84-57), first downs (25-15), rushing yardage (312-204) and total yardage (436-330).

Despite the overwhelming numbers in the Dukes' favor, it was the Apps that turned in the game-changing plays throughout to escape with the thrilling victory.

The first came in the second quarter, with JMU already in possession of a 7-0 lead and inside the ASU 25 thanks to a 17-play, 68-yard that took 9:04 off the clock. On third-and-six from the 23 yard line, Appalachian linebacker Pierre Banks forced a fumble that was scooped up by fellow 'backer Roman, who returned 77 yard to the ASU two yard line. Three plays later, Edwards ran it in from four yards out to knot the game at 7-7.

The Dukes scored on the ensuing possession to regain a 14-7 lead, but the Mountaineers exploded for three-straight touchdowns, the first of which was set up by defensive end Tony Robertson's first-career interception on a pass deflected by cornerback Justin Woazeah. However, the Apps failed to convert on two of the three PATs (one that was blocked and one that was attempted from 35 yards out thanks to an ASU personal foul call) and held just a five-point halftime advantage at 19-14.

James Madison seemingly took control of the game after the break, as it put together scoring drives of 11 and 16 plays and grabbed a 27-19 lead on Jamal Sullivan's two-yard touchdown dive midway through the fourth quarter.

Things got even bleaker for the Mountaineers on the first play of the next drive when Walter Payton Award candidate Kevin Richardson went down with an ankle injury. However, the Apps managed to move the ball 52 yards in nine plays before settling for a 44-yard Julian Rauch field goal that cut the deficit to five with 4:51 to go in the ballgame.

With Appalachian needing its most critical stop of the season, James Madison picked up nine yards on the first two plays of its ensuing possession. However, Buck Buchanan Award candidate Corey Lynch stopped Sullivan for no gain on third down and on fourth-and-one, defensive tackle Anthony Williams stood up JMU quarterback Rodney Landers to give ASU possession on the James Madison 32 yard line with 2:35 left to play.

Needing a touchdown, Edwards and Co. faced fourth-and-three from the JMU 25 with less than two minutes remaining. The sophomore signal-caller delivered perhaps the biggest play of his young career, a 20-yard completion to Richardson's backup, Devon Moore, who made a diving catch that gave the Apps first-and-goal from the five yard line. On the next play, Edwards capped the Mountaineer comeback with his third touchdown run of the afternoon. The two-point-conversion attempt failed, leaving the Mountaineers with a tenuous 28-27 lead with 1:10 remaining on the clock.

In the back-and-forth affair, the Dukes took advantage of their final opportunity by driving 62 yards in just four plays into seemingly chip-shot field-goal range at the ASU nine yard line. With one timeout remaining, JMU sent Sullivan off tackle to apparently try to move the ball into better position for place-kicker Dave Stannard. However, Roman broke through the line and stuffed Sullivan, knocking the ball to the turf. A scrum ensued, culminating with Banks emerging with the ball, setting off a wild celebration on the Appalachian sideline and in the loud, raucous crowd of 14,040 at The Rock. Edwards ended the saga by taking a knee on the final play.

In all, Edwards accounted for 258 (132 rushing and 126 passing) of Appalachian's 330 yards of offense and three of their four touchdowns.

Defensively, Roman led four Mountaineers in double-figures with a career-high 20 tackles to go along with the forced fumble and 77-yard fumble return. The 20 stops are the second-most in ASU postseason history, behind only Sam Smalls' 21 in a first-round loss to Maine in 2002. Freshman linebacker D.J. Smith added 12 tackles and Banks and Lynch chipped in with 11 and 10, respectively.

Landers paced the Dukes with 253 yards of offense (129 rushing, 124 passing).

NOTES: The 100-yard rushing effort was Edwards' fifth in eight games this season and 11th in 23 collegiate outings ... it also marked the 19th 100-yard rushing performance and 12th-best rushing total in ASU postseason history ... injuries to Richardson and cornerback Jerome Touchstone, who left the game after re-aggravating a shoulder injury on the first series of the game, are both considered relatively minor ... both will be re-evaluated early in the week ... JMU held the ball for over 10 minutes in three of the game's four quarters ... Appalachian moved to 12-3 in 15 all-time meetings versus James Madison, including 2-0 in the postseason and 6-2 in Boone ... ASU secured its third-consecutive and seventh-overall 10-win season ... the Mountaineers' trip to the national quarterfinals is also their third-straight and seventh in the past 14 seasons.

2007 NCAA DIVISION I CHAMPIONSHIP QUARTERFINAL • DEC. 1, 2007 • BOONE, N.C.

KIDD BREWER STADIUM (ATT. 16,947)

BOONE, N.C. — Quarterback Armanti Edwards accounted for 347 yards of offense and three touchdowns while Appalachian State University's defense limited Eastern Washington's potent aerial attack to a season-low passing output en route to a 38-35 triumph in the NCAA Division I Football Championship quarterfinal at Kidd Brewer Stadium.

With its 10th-straight postseason victory, which ties an NCAA Division I FCS (Football Championship Subdivision – formerly Division I-AA) record for consecutive postseason wins in contiguous years, Appalachian (11-2) becomes just the sixth team to ever advance to three-consecutive FCS/I-AA semifinals. ASU will host Richmond, a 21-10 winner at Wofford, in the national semifinals.

The Mountaineers led 21-7 at halftime and 38-21 with just over six minutes to go in the ballgame, but Eastern Washington (9-4) mounted a furious comeback to cut the deficit to just three points on Matt Nichols' two-yard touchdown pass to Matt Martin with 28 seconds remaining. However, ASU's Chase Laws recovered EWU's ensuing onsidel kick attempt to seal the Apps' victory.

Appalachian's defense smothered Eastern Washington's high-powered passing game for much of the afternoon, limiting the Eagles to less than 100 yards through the air until the final five minutes of the game. With its late flurry, EWU finished with 185 passing yards, still its lowest total of the campaign and 120 yards below its season average.

Buck Buchanan Award finalist Corey Lynch led the defensive effort with an interception, fumble recovery and field-goal block. With his 23rd-career interception and seventh-career fumble recovery, Lynch extended his school record for takeaways to 30 in just 54 career games. His field-goal block, which thwarted the Eagles' only scoring opportunity of the first quarter, was the sixth of his career (all in his 19 games).

Not to be overlooked by the defensive performance was the play of Appalachian's offense, which racked up an ASU-playoff-record 529 total yards (308 rushing, 221 passing). For the fourth time in its last six postseason games, Appalachian featured two 100-yard rushers, as Edwards' turned in a game-high 126 yards on the ground and running back Devon Moore added a career-high 100. Kevin Richardson chipped in with 69 yards on just eight carries (8.6 ypr) despite still nursing an ankle injury sustained in last week's first-round win over James Madison.

All three of Edwards' touchdowns came in the first half on a four-yard run and passes of 41 yards to Dexter Jackson and 15 yards to Hans Batichon. Eastern Washington benefited from an 82-yard kickoff return following ASU's second touchdown to score its only touchdown of the half on a seven-yard pass from Nichols to his go-to receiver, Aaron Boyce.

Mountaineer special-teams miscues also led to the Eagles' next two scores. Early in the third quarter, following a questionable running into the kicker penalty on Lynch, EWU cut the ASU lead to 21-14 on a 51-yard fake-punt run by Bryan Jarrett. After Appalachian stretched its advantage back to 10 points on a 21-yard field goal by Julian Rauch, Eastern Washington's A.J. Jimerson returned the ensuing kickoff 78 yards for a score to make it 24-21.

The Apps appeared to put the game on ice with touchdown runs of 10 and 18 yards by Moore and Richardson, respectively, but EWU scored twice in the final 3:17 to make it interesting.

In addition to Lynch, senior cornerback Justin Woazeah and freshman linebacker D.J. Smith led Appalachian's defensive performance with 12 tackles apiece. Woazeah added a game-high four pass break-ups and Smith recovered a fumble for the third takeaway of his young career.

Offensively, wide receivers Batichon (five receptions for 41 yards), CoCo Hillary (3-66) and Jackson (2-54) helped pace the Mountaineers.

For Eastern Washington, Nichols completed just 24 of his 42 pass attempts, found the end zone twice and was intercepted once. Boyce was the team's leading receiver with five catches for 37 yards and Dale Morris ran 16 times for 69 yards.

NOTES: Appalachian joins Georgia Southern (1999-2001) as the only teams to ever win 10-straight FCS/I-AA playoff games ... ASU is also the first team to advance to the semis three-consecutive seasons since GSU pulled off the feat five-straight times from 1998-2002 ... Saturday's over-capacity attendance of 16,947 marked the second-largest home crowd in ASU postseason history, behind only the 18,040 that witnessed last season's semifinal win over Youngstown State ... Appalachian moved to 20-0 all-time when Lynch intercepts a pass ... Lynch is within two interceptions of Larry Harbin's (1961-64) school record of 23 ... Edwards completed his first nine passes of the afternoon and didn't throw an incomplete pass until the third period ... the win was the Mountaineers' third-straight over Big Sky Conference competition, all in the past 12 months (38-17 over Montana State in last year's NCAA quarterfinal round and 34-21 earlier this season over Northern Arizona) ... Appalachian's 95-yard drive for its first touchdown was its longest scoring drive of the season.
